These fair-trade, handmade products represent lives that have been eternally changed around the globe. You can shop for these new items, as well as more than 200 other products, online at www.WorldCrafts.org.

We are especially excited to announce the addition of a new artisan group this season, Noorjahan Enterprises in India. Their first offering to our customers is the Infinity Bracelet, a beautiful, handmade, silver chain bracelet.

Noorjahan Enterprises

After Sahid had his truck—his only means of income—stolen from him in the big city, he returned home to his Indian village dejected and in desperate need. At just the right time, Noorjahan Enterprises reached that village and was able to offer jewelry-making work to the ladies of Sahid's household. With tools and training provided by Noorjahan, the women were quick to master the new skills and overjoyed to bring in income for their home. Noorjahan, which means "light of the world" in Urdu, is becoming a light of hope for the villages of India.
